VOL. XVIII] WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1818. [No. 5135.

For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

AMERICAN EDITION OF
DR. REES's NEW CYCLOPÆDIA.

The publishers beg leave to inform their subscribers, that vol. XXXVII, part II, (being the 74th number) is now ready for delivery.
When the undersigned became proprietors of this work, it appeared to be the general and anxious wish of the subscribers, to have it completed with all possible expedition; and every exertion has been made by the publishers to meet those wishes. In the space of two years they have published twenty-five half volumes or Parts, seventeen of which (exclusive of a volume of plates) have been published in the course of the last year—a rapidity of execution which they believe has never been exceeded in any country. It has ever been the sincere desire of the publishers to fulfil their engagements to the subscribers to this great work with punctuality: and they have reason therefore to expect, on the part of the subscribers, a corresponding punctuality.
The American publishers have now printed this work as far as they have received the London copy; and as soon as they receive the few remaining numbers, which they have reason to believe will not exceed four, the American edition will be finished with all possible despatch.
This work already contains upwards of eight hundred Engravings; and, when completed, will probably (with the extra volumes of Plates) amount to one thousand. These plates will comprehend, as they believe, upwards of five thousand different subjects, in all the various departments of the Arts and Sciences. The engravings of the Portraits of distinguished American characters, promised to be given in the work, are nearly completed, and will be ready (with two volumes of extra plates) with the last number.
Those subscribers, who have not yet taken up their volumes, are once more notified, that two hundred and fifty copies less of each of the last twenty five numbers have been printed than of the preceding forty-nine; and, that, owing to this arrangement, which was rendered necessary by the neglect of distant subscribers to take up their books, and other uncontrolable circumstances, there must, inevitably, be upwards of two hundred and fifty sets left incomplete at the close of the publication. Those who, through neglect or improper delay, may hereafter find their application for the completion of their sets too late, will have no reasonable cause of complaint against any one but themselves, as all the subscribers were individually advised of the edition being reduced, more than two years ago.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from Peter Graham, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 25th of March last, a very likely Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Noland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round faced, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave;—small feet, a tolerable ready speech, and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high from appearance. She had on when she went away a dress of coating cloth, made in a coat and jacket, with skirts of a brown snuff color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, or Fairfax counties, or the District of Columbia, if taken in any other county or state, and secured in any jail, so that I obtain information and get her, I will give one hundred dollars, and all reasonable charges paid in either case, if brought home.

THE SNOW-SPIRIT.

WRITTEN IN BERMUDA.

No! he'er did the wave in the element steep
An island of lovelier charms;
It blooms in the giant embrace of the deep,
Like Hebe in Hercules' arms;
The tint of your bowers is balm to the eye,
Their melody balm to the ear;
But the fiery planet of day is too nigh,
And the Snow-spirit cannot come here.

The down from his wings is as white as the pearl
Thy lips for their cabinet stole;
And it falls on the green earth as melting, my girl,
As a murmur of thine on the soul.
Then fly to the clime where he pillows the heath,
As he cradles the birth of the year—
Bright are your bowers and balmy their breath,
But the Snow-spirit never comes here.

How sweet to behold him! when, borne on the gale,
And bright'ning the bosom of morn,
He flings, like the priest of Diana, a veil
O'er the brow of each virgineal thorn;
But think not the veil he so chillingly casts,
Is the veil of a vestal severe—
No, no! you will see what a moment it lasts,
Should the Snow-spirit ever come here.

Then fly to his region—lay open his zone,
And he'll weep all his brilliancy dim,
To think that a bosom as white as his own,
Should not melt in the day-beam like him.
Oh! lovely the print of those delicate feet
On his luminous path will appear)
Fly! fly! my beloved, this island is sweet,
But the Snow-spirit cannot come here.

SEASONABLE RECIPE.

A young lady consulted a physician of eminence, on account of some rheumatic pains and a troublesome cough, which she labored under ever since the commencement of the cold weather.—The prescription was sent to the apothecary's as usual. He read it with a smile, and recommended the messenger to take it to a haberdasher's on the opposite side of the street, as apothecaries did not keep the articles prescribed; upon which the footman enquired what the doctor had ordered, when he was informed by the young Æsculapius, that the prescription ran thus: "Take a good, warm, double, Scotch shawl, and apply it immediately round the shoulders and chest,—add also, secundum artem, a stout welch flannel petticoat."

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Tuesday, January 27, 1818.

Yesterday's proceedings in the house of representatives, though they occupied the whole day, are scarcely worth mentioning to your readers. A bill was reported for erecting two buildings to contain additional rooms for the public offices—each to contain forty rooms, was read twice and committed.

The house consumed the residue of the day in a committee of the whole on a bill respecting fugitives from justice, and persons escaping from the service of their masters—which rose and reported progress before they had gone through the bill—and obtained leave to sit again.—There was a volume of talk chiefly upon legal points in the detail of the bill. It will be reported to the house this morning.

VIRGINIA.

The entire amount of the revenue of Virginia, for the year 1817 is stated by the auditor at $504,500 25; and the expenditures at $562,873 23—leaving a balance against the revenue of nearly sixty thousand dollars.

Melancholy and Distressing occurrence. It is stated in the Register, printed at Knoxville, Tennessee, that on the 14th of December a large beach tree in the county of Sevier fell upon a travelling family who had encamped beneath its branches. Of the twelve persons who constituted the family, five were instantaneously killed, five others were severely injured, and only two escaped unhurt. Of the wounded two have since died, and the other three, it is hoped, will recover.

Extract of a letter from a merchant in St. Petersburg to his friend in Boston.

The officers of the customs here have received instructions to admit no papers when signed per procuration without exacting double duties. All invoices, bills of lading and specifications, must be signed at the bottom, otherwise double duties will have to be paid. It is important that the merchants in the United States who trade to this place should be acquainted with the above fact.

The Patriot brig Morgiana, with colonel Irwin and all his officers on board, slipped out of Amelia on Sunday, the 11th inst. destination unknown, leaving com. Aury behind, who was also preparing to sail with the remaining vessels.—The poor Spaniards at Amelia were complaining very much, in consequence of Aury having ceased to issue rations to them. Norfolk, Jan. 23.

LOSS OF THE SHIP BERKELEY.

The British ship Berkeley, capt. Dent, sailed from Anatto Bay, Jamaica, on the 2d of Nov. last, with a cargo of rum, sugar and pimento, bound for this port, and on the 17th of same month, during a strong northerly gale, was wrecked on the Colloredes reef. The crew were all saved, and the captain expected to have saved a part of the cargo by carrying it in boats to an adjoining island, but a party of the Spaniards laid siege to it on the night of the 1st December, and after plundering the ship of every article, even to the cabin stores, which they could conveniently carry off, set the ship on fire. Captain Dent was only able to save 53 bags of piments, and a few small articles which had been conveyed to the island, and which escaped the observation of those rapacious savages. The captain and crew afterwards found means to get to Havana, from whence the former has written an account of his disaster to his consignee at this place.

VERY IMPORTANT NEWS

From the kingdom of New Grenada and Carthagena, its principal sea-port.

Communicated in a letter from Kingston, (Jam.) dated December 8.

Samano, lately named vice-roy, and residing at Santa Fe de Bogota, the capital of the kingdom, has officially communicated to Montalvo, the present vice-roy, and exercising the functions of said office until the arrival of his successor, that it is impossible for him longer to sustain the kingdom—after having sent a division to the plains of Casanare, which was completely destroyed by the Patriots; only the commander and seventeen soldiers escaping. A second one was immediately after despatched to said plains, and only its chief and two drummers could escape from this still more severe loss.

Morillo writes, that he is about to execute the officer who commanded a division which shamefully retreated from 3000 Independents, when his own force consisted of 5000 men.

In Santa Fe a woman was about to be executed in consequence of there having been intercepted a detailed statement of the Spanish troops in that place, and which she had forwarded to the Patriots in Casanare.

Brigadier Cupini and a lieut. colonel had arrived Carthagena, being the only remains of the defeat at Margaritta, and said they were on their route to Peru;—the former to take command as general.

On the 6th October the province of Pamplona was taken by the Republicans, and the Spaniards completely defeated at said place. This news is confirmed by a sergeant that had arrived at Carthagena, who was wounded in the action.

In Carthagena they were collecting donations for the purchase of provisions of every description, to be in readiness in case a siege should be laid by the Patriots.

On the 17th of November, and almost every day since that period, placards have been put up in different parts of the city of Carthagena, demanding the heads of Montalvo, Torres, (the governor) and Cano, (the judge advocate.) These placards are supposed to have been stuck up by the soldiers and subaltern officers, among whom a general discontent prevailed. Patroles were constantly employed in parading the streets and taking down the placards.

RECENT NEWS FROM THE SOUTH SEA.

By a gentleman lately arrived from Guayaquil and Panama, I am informed by him, in person, that the army of Chili in July last disembarked at Arica in lat. 18, 25, S. to unite themselves to the powerful armies of Buenos Ayres, which had already entered the kingdom of Peru;—and that the Royalist army in said province had capitulated to the Patriots, and that in consequence of this glorious triumph all the armies were on their march for Lima. Casco, the former capital of that kingdom, had already become independent, which excited great alarm in Lima, its modern capital, which, it is generally believed here, must have fallen long since. The ports of Lima and Guayaquil are strictly blockaded by the Patriots, who, it is said, have upwards of eighty vessels of war; among which are frigates, brigs, and other smaller craft.—Not a single vessel has arrived from Lima to Panama since September, and it is positively believed that the immensely lucrative commerce which has been carried on between this island and the Pacific Ocean has now drawn to a close, for the Independent armed vessels have even appeared in front of Panama on the 24th of October; and it is supposed the Patriot flag will float in triumph from Cape Horn to the northernmost point in Venezuela within the space of six months.

CAUSES OF THE DIFFICULTIES BETWEEN SPAIN AND PORTUGAL.

The late very extraordinary military movements on the frontiers of Spain and Portugal, which have excited some attention among politicians, during this piping time of peace, are thus explained in an English paper: but we can hardly vouch for the correctness of a statement which after all is founded upon conjecture.

It is said that the Portuguese government soon after their arrival at the Brazils found that revolutionary sentiments had spread among the Brazilians, which could not well be effectually checked, but by stopping the fountain head, at once the spring and stream of revolution. We refer to the struggle of Buenos Ayres and Monte Video. An opportunity soon offered itself which was seized upon by the Court of Portugal.

As the Spanish governor, in the interest of the king and the cortes, had successfully maintained Monte-Video, the provinces of the Plate were divided into two strong parties: not, indeed equal, nor nearly so, but both at least strong enough for their self-defence. But the encreasing success of the patriots having, at length so much endangered the royal cause that Monte-Video was about to fall, the royalists, through the means of their friends in the Brazils, are understood to have made a proposal to Portugal, that they would favor a Portuguese invasion; that all parties, indeed, were united against re-admitting the weak and tyrannical government of Spain; that the greater portion of the people were equally wearied with the excesses of the patriots, and with the civil anarchy, and that therefore it was a reasonable expectation that they would all concur in adopting this middle course. It might be said, indeed, that these provinces still belonged to the Spanish government, & therefore that such an interference on the part of Portugal, would be a breach of the existing peace with Spain. But Spain could have no cause to complain, unless she were injured; and what injury would be sustained when she lost only what she never could recover. That in the provinces of the Plate, indeed, the dominion of Spain was forever extinct,—was irrecoverably lost; and that Spain herself, both from pride and interest, would rather see Portugal in possession of these provinces, and thereby a monarchical barrier erected against the further spreading of the republican contagion into her other South American provinces, than to see her own rebellious subjects at once triumphing in present success, & stretching onwards to others.

These arguments, or at least these solicitations, prevailed, and the Portuguese armies advanced. At the same time the court of Portugal, in order to save appearances, opened a negociation with the court of Madrid for its consent to these arrangements; in the course of which it repeated and enforced the same representations. There is reason to believe, that the Spanish ministers of the day, having a personal point to carry with the court of Brazil, dissembled their feelings and opinion of this intrigue, and even affected to give it a favorable consideration. They thus, in part, deceived the court of Brazil. Accordingly the expedition was undertaken, and in part succeeded.

In the mean time, the union of the two royal families was effected, and with it the chief wish and leading intrigue of the Spanish ministry, to marry their weak sovereign. Having accomplished this purpose, they had no farther cause for dissimulation with the court of Brazil. Accordingly the marriage was scarcely completed, before (to the astonishment of those not accustomed to the intrigues of courts, and to the tricks of the continental cabinets) an angry manifesto appeared, in which the King of Spain complained of the ill faith and unfriendly dealing of his father, the king of Portugal. There is reason to believe that the king of Portugal (of Brazil, perhaps we would rather say) was equally astonished at this manifesto, and in some degree indignant at the dissimulation of the Spanish ministry. It would not admit a doubt, that he could have no possible right to the Spanish possessions without the actual or implied consent, or at least, a dereliction and abandonment on the part of Spain. But he had acted, and, as he thought, reasonably acted, upon this presumption. Had not Spain, therefore, herself now changed the state of things? Was he not injured? Had he not now a good cause, where he had hitherto but a bad one?—Unfortunately, the best logic is always that which is seconded by our interests; and the king of Portugal appears to have convinced himself that he now became the injured party.

From the London Gazette, Nov. 29.

By his royal highness the prince of Wales, Regent of the United Kingdom of G. Britain and Ireland, in the name and on the behalf of his majesty,

A PROCLAMATION,

Prohibiting his majesty's natural born subjects from serving, enlisting, or entering themselves to serve in the military forces or ships of war, raised or set forth by the persons exercising or assuming to exercise the power of Government in certain provinces and parts of provinces in Spanish America or in the military forces of his catholic majesty employed in Spanish America—or in his said majesty's ships of war.

GEORGE, P. R.

Whereas there unhappily subsists a state of warfare between his Catholic majesty and divers provinces or parts of provinces in Spanish America; and whereas it has been represented to us, that many of our subjects have, without our leave or license, enlisted or entered themselves to serve in the military forces or ships of war raised or set forth, or to be raised or set forth by the persons exercising or assuming to exercise the power of government in such provinces or parts of provinces and that divers others of our subjects are about, in like manner to enter and enlist themselves; and whereas such practices are highly prejudicial to and tend to endanger the peace and welfare of our crown and dominions, we do therefore, hereby, and with the advice of our Privy Council, strictly charge and command all and every of our natural born subjects, of what degree or quality soever, not to serve in any such military forces or ships of war as aforesaid, and not to enlist or enter themselves to serve therein, and not to go beyond the seas, or embark in order to serve, or with intent to serve in such military forces or ships of war; and it is at the same time our royal will and pleasure, and we do by and with the advice aforesaid, hereby also strictly charge and command all and every of our said subjects not to serve, or enlist, or enter themselves to serve, in any of the military forces or ships of war raised or set forth, or to be raised or set forth by his catholic majesty, and not to go beyond the seas, or embark, in order, or to the intent to serve, or enter, or enlist themselves or serve in such military forces or ships of war; it is nevertheless our royal will and pleasure, that nothing herein contained, shall be deemed or taken to prohibit any of our subjects who are engaged at the time of the date of this our proclamation, in serving in the military forces of his catholic majesty with our leave or license, from continuing to serve therein, provided such of our said subjects do not serve with the military forces of his catholic majesty when employed in Spanish America; and we do hereby, by and with the advice aforesaid, strictly require all our said subjects duly to conform to our commands herein contained, under pain of our highest displeasure, and the utmost forfeitures, to which by law they will otherwise be liable.

Given at the Court at Brighton, the 28th day of November, 1817, in the 52d year of our reign.—God save the King.

From the London Times of December 2.

The proclamation which appeared in the Gazette on Sunday night, prohibiting all assistance to the provinces of South America, has excited a strong sensation amongst the military adventurers, whose enterprize are thus suddenly condemned by law. Several officers in the above predicament mustered in the city yesterday, to take into consideration the best means to be pursued under existing circumstances. Many of these gentlemen are most uncomfortably situated, having fitted themselves out for the trans-atlantic regions at a great expense, which they were enabled to do only by the assistance of their friends; added to this, a number of them had taken and paid for their passage on board several ships in the river now on the point of sailing.

If we may judge by the last accounts from the Havanna, the proclamation will have appeared just in time to prevent our brethren preparing their departure at the different islands for the Spanish main from experiencing the keenest disappointments.

Died,

At Philadelphia on Thursday last, Dr. CASPAR WISTAR, President of the American Philosophical Society, and professor of Anatomy, in the University of Pennsylvania. This eminent and much beloved person had occupied his chair only a week before, and nothing could be then more remote from the expectation of his hearers, than the catastrophe we now record. It involves an almost irreparable loss, not only for Philadelphia, but for the whole United States. The lectures of Dr. Wistar, as Professor of Anatomy, were for a long series of years, a source of brilliant reputation to the Medical School of that city, and of the most sound instruction to the multitudes who repaired thither from all parts of the Union, to qualify themselves for the medical career.

In his capacity of Physician, he had no superior in this country, whether as to knowledge, judgment, circumspection, benevolence or temper. He was profoundly versed in the sciences auxiliary to his profession; he was indefatigable in collecting and disseminating information on every subject important to the welfare of his species; he was a true patriot as well as a philanthropist. In his social and domestic relations, he was the object of the most sincere respect and tender affection.

His station as President of American Philosophical Society, may illustrate the estimation in which he was held, as a man of science, and his works justify the inference to which it leads. His "System of Anatomy," will bear a comparison in all points, with any elementary treatise of the kind extant, and is the manuel of all American Students in that branch of knowledge. His memoirs on several heads of Natural Philosophy, contained in the transactions of the American Philosophical Society, and the paper on Fossil bones, found in America, which will be included in the volume of those transactions, now in the press, bear ample testimony to his usefulness as a Philosopher, and to the qualities of solidity, patience, scrupulousness, and discrimination by which he was distinguished in all his intellectual labors.

To the Flour and Rice Millers
OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN,—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the sums I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. [illegible] has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law, that every infringer is liable to pay treble the actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of the property during the infringement. I have expended the greatest part of a long, arduous, and indefatigable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding saved by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 22, 1813, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum becoming due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding becomes due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the users; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will alone be valid, and save the expense of suit and treble damages to the defendants. JOHN LOVE.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.—Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment,

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Thompson's Aromatic Tooth Paste,

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of blood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric affections	Relaxations, etc.
